This color palette that I picked is complimentary with yellow and blue as the main colors with white, black, and gray to soften the colors. This theme is based off of the moldboard that I created for Skyline Fitness and matches the color scheme intended for the site. The color blue is has a calming effect as well as having the effects of not eating as much food as u would normally. It also is a color of inspiration, freedom, and confidence. The color yellow is an energetic color which will help people get pumped to exercise. It also is also a color of happiness, and hope. The colors white, gray, and black are there to soften the feel of the website to make it feel professional.
